

SAN FRANCISCO BAY
BIRD OBSERVATORY

Its time for the Annual California Fall Challenge!

Happening between
Sept. 13 - Oct. 12
2008

The Gallinago Go Go's are asking for your support as we head out on Oct. 11 to find a minimum of 100 species!

Team Leader
Lisa Myers

House Wren
© Brooke Miller

Yellow Billed Magpie
© Les Chibana

Phainopepla
© Rob Pavey

Bald Eagle
© Tom Grey

Got it!

Wilson's Snipe (Gallinago delicata) displaying above was taken by Les Chibana

The Gallinago Go Go's will be at it again for the San Francisco Bay Bird Observatory's (SFBBO) annual California Fall Challenge!

This is a very important fundraiser for SFBBO. Funds raised are vital to allow SFBBO to continue the research and accomplish the goals which benefit the avian world and all of us living in the bay area. This research provides information vital to the health of the Bay Area and beyond. I encourage you to visit www.SFBBO.org

As the Gallinago Go Go's team leader, a member of the Board of Directors for SFBBO and the owner of Let's Go Birding, it is my goal to get people out birding & experience some incredible nature while doing some serious fundraising! On Saturday Oct. 11th we will start our day early and bird all over San Benito County. On this day we'll stop at the Paicines Reservoir to look for fall ducks and Bald Eagles and continue on down to the areas around the Pinnacles National Monument. Working against time we'll head into the high desert of Panoche Valley. I ask for your support by either joining the team (no experience necessary), or by sponsoring the team. We have the privilege to match a generous pledge of $3,000. This means with your support we can easily raise $6,000! If you would like to have one heck of an adventure and help raise money just let me know - lisa@lets gobirding.com.

All those sponsoring the team will receive tax donation info. I will also provide to you our final trip report. I thank you for anything you can do. If you have any questions let me know.

I look forward to the challenge & welcome your support, Lisa